

The Federal Communications Commission

Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

I can,t pay more for my telephone service! My husband is a retired policeman, who will not receive much social security because of his pension. I only use the phone when I have my precious Grandchildren with me, in order not to spend an extra cent. I urge you to reject a flat fee proposal that would change how contributions are made to the Universal Service Fund. I am concerned that this proposal could make my current service unaffordable.

Under the flat fee proposal you are considering, people who make few long distance calls would pay the same as people or businesses that make many calls. In other words, low-volume and primarily residential customers would bear the same universal service fund burden as a high-volume residential or business customers. This is terribly unfair!

I use my wireless phone for security. I don't want to lose these benefits so that big businesses can pay less than their fair share. I urge you to reject the proposal to move the USF collection system to a flat-fee.

Keep the USF Fair! Sincerely Constance Stachelek, North wales,

Sincerely,
